FIVE CENTS

Health Care Compromise Is Unveiled

Bipartisan Plan Expected To Gain Votes In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)— A bi-partisan plan for health care for the aged financed under Social Security was unveiled in the Senate on Friday and appeared to attract enough support to pass that body.

Five Republican senators joined 18 Democrats in cosponsoring the new proposal, worked out after weeks of intensive conferences.

VOTING GAINS

This in itself showed a considerable voting gain for the new bill. Only one Republican voted for a Social Security health care plan when it was offered to the Senate by then Sen. John F. Kennedy, D-Mass., in 1960 and defeated 51 to 44.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., chief Senate sponsor of President Kennedy's health care plan and one of those seeking a compromise, told the Senate of its details and declared the time has arrived "to provide an effective program of protection for the nation's elderly people."

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., assistant Democratic leader, said "this proposal can and will be passed by the Senate and the House."

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., one of the Republicans most active in the negotiations, said he regards the compromise as "an historic step" which could turn out to be a landmark in welfare legislation.

These are the key points of the compromise:

1. It would be financed by an increase in Social Security payroll taxes.

2. The benefits would be the same as under the administration bill on which Kennedy has been urging action — hospitalization, nursing home care, home health services and outpatient hospital diagnostic services.

3. The estimated 2½ million people not covered by Social Security would be given the benefits of the program along with the 15 million expected to be under Social Security or Railroad Retirement Act by 1964 when the plan would take effect.

4. An option would be provided under which a beneficiary could elect to take his payments through a private health insurance plan instead of the Social Security Administration.

Ruston Crash Kills Monroyan; Three Injured

RUSTON (Special) — Bernard Lovett Jr., 33, of 107 South Fourth Street Monroe, was dead on arrival at Lincoln General Hospital here after a car-truck collision late Friday afternoon on Highway 80 east, police said.

Lovett was driving east in a residential section inside the Ruston city limits when a truck jackedknifed and the collision occurred.

Apparently an automobile headed east had stopped to make a left turn into a private driveway and was quickly passed by a second car. The truck officers said, saw the stopped auto too late for a safe stop, applied brakes and jackedknifed.

Lovett's wife and two of his five small children in the car were reported seriously injured in the collision, one little girl suffering a skull fracture. The extent of other injuries was unknown late Friday.

Lovett's body was taken to Spears Funeral Home here. No charges were reported filed Friday night.

Lovett's car collided in misting rain at about 5 p.m. with a truck driven by Claude T. Nighton. The truck driver's name and company were unknown late Friday.

He was employed by right-of-way contractor Tom Hicks in West Monroe.

Holiday Death Toll Estimated

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council said Friday between 110 and 150 Americans may die in traffic accidents during the Independence Day holiday.

President Howard Pyle said the toll could be near the lower figure if most motorists observe safe driving rules, but could be around the higher figure if they don't.

The holiday period will begin at 6 p.m. local time Tuesday and end at midnight Wednesday.

The current record for motor vehicle fatalities for a one-day celebration of Independence Day is 137. It was set in 1956.

DOCTORS REPORT

Churchill 'Okay' After Operation

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill was reported sleeping peacefully early Saturday after a successful operation Friday night to pin the bones of his fractured left thigh.

JES' Ramblin'

New Arrivals

Thursday was "bingo day" for Morning World sports writer Stuart Hill. His wife presented him with a six pound, six ounce baby girl. Stuart and Bonnie have named the bouncy newcomer La Dawn Beth. She was born around 10 a.m. and was the couple's first.

The operation took place in mid-evening. After midnight, Middlesex Hospital confirmed that the 87-year-old statesman was comfortable.

Doctors carried out the 90-minute operation shortly after Sir Winston returned home in a jet ambulance plane from the Riviera, where he suffered the break.

The medical bulletin said:

"The fixation of the fracture of the neck of the femur was carried out this evening successfully, and Sir Winston's condition after the operation is at present satisfactory."

A medical spokesman said Churchill would probably remain under the effects of the anaesthetic for some three hours.

The bulletin was signed by Lord Moran, Churchill's personal physician, and the team of surgeons that performed the operation.

The decision to operate followed urgent consultations by doctors after Churchill arrived.

Heading the surgical team were Prof. John Seddon and Dr. Philip H. Newman, considered two of Britain's leading orthopedic specialists.

A medical spokesman said a pinning operation "is not dangerous for a man in Sir Winston's condition."

Century Plant

Some of Jes' Ramblin's horticulturally interested friends tell us that a Century Plant is in bloom — an occurrence reputed to happen once every 100 years — in the Twin Cities.

The Century Plant, a cactus-looking monster, is supposed to be more intriguing than beautiful. It has recently shot a stalk right up into the air about 20 feet with yellow cactus-like blooms on its top. The big plant is near the corner of Forest Avenue and South Grand Street in Monroe.

Speaking of newly arrived toddlers, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Coates received their first-born Thursday night. By name, Jennifer Ann, the little stork rider weighed in at six pounds, 10 ounces. As a bonus, the delivery came on Guy's birthday. How's that for timing?

GOP Assails Stockpiling Probe Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn., has accused Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., of playing politics in the Senate stockpiling investigation by seeking to find scapegoats among former Republican officials.

Symington briskly denied this, as well as Bush's charge Friday that he has been using unfair and improper tactics as chairman of the inquiry.

Symington said he had been warned several times not to get too rough on people in the Eisenhower administration. But he said he is determined "to get all the truth out no matter what the result is."

The public, he said, has a right to know if there was cheating and waste that caused huge surprises in the multimillion-dollar defense stockpile.

The partisan row that broke out at resumption of the Senate Armed Services subcommittee inquiry lasted for over an hour. It began with Bush reading a prepared statement. Symington did not get a chance to see before hand.

At one point Symington accused Bush of attacking him personally for the way the hearings are being run. Bush said he had "no animosity" and had "no desire to conceal or protect anyone."

Bush agreed that the facts should be sought out. But he insisted that before anyone was blamed or accused publicly of misdeeds or mistakes the witness should first have a closed-door chance to explain.

This, he said, was violated in both the case of Arthur S. Flemming, stockpile director, in the Eisenhower administration, and Felix E. Wormser, an assistant secretary of the interior in that administration.

Wife Of Actor Seeks Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The 21-year marriage of Pamela and James Mason came to an official break Friday as she filed suit for separate maintenance, asking $14,000 a month for herself and two children.

The British-born actor announced in England on Monday that he would return here next week to "put the wheels of the divorce in motion."

Mrs. Mason, who earlier had professed no knowledge of a rift between them, sprung her suit on Friday. Her attorney, Paul Caru, said she had no intention of compared with most states asking for a divorce, seeking an indefinite separation instead. She charged extreme cruelty.

NEWLY-ELECTED American Legion officers of the L. B. Faulk Post No. 13 met Friday night in a special meeting, along with outgoing Commander Edward H. Skoog Jr., left. They are Commander J. B. House Approves Change In Auto License Buying BATON ROUGE (AP) — The idea because the license figure is 1960 legislature adopted a payroll withholding step for state income taxes.

The House voted 26-44 to kill a proposal making front seat safety belts mandatory on all new cars in this state starting next year.

Both Senate and House will in extra revenue in the final months of the Davis administration, based on revenue department estimates of 1,250,000 plates to be sold.

House members passed 41 bills, including final legislative approval for 24 Senate bills which now go to Gov. Jimmie H. Davis desk for his signature.

Assault Charge Said Pending

The $6 auto license was one of the Senate bills, passed 73-1 in the House, which now goes to the Governor for his signature.

Rep. Francis Birkford, Tangipahoa Parish, urged House passage. — Coffee shop operator R. H. Cooreham favored the measure, saying state Collector Roland Hughes, 30, is awaiting grand jury action on an aggravated rape charge, according to authorities, because it would save the state $25,000 in administrative costs.

Hughes was arrested June 22 by the East Carroll Parish sheriff's office, the incident occurred June 21. Dyson told the House the minimum prices to be paid for the state for waterbottom shell from 7.5 cents to 10 cents per cubic yard.

Louisiana drivers now pay what the bill expands the department authority to leases on state water bottoms for sand, gravel and soil.

With the minimum prices for screen sand set at 5.5 cents, unscreened sand and gravel, 15 cents, unscreened sand and gravel, 25 cents for soil or fill material.

The single re-elected alderman, Billy Lewis, will be joined by new city council members Ernest Shaw, Jeff Lain, Jackson Thigpen and Jake Spears.

Clerk of Court Leslie Ledbetter will swear the new officials in after the outgoing council settles June bills in its last meeting.

Perritt succeeds Mayor T. C. Beasley.

Ten Convicts Stay On Tower

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Ten convicts defied 86-degree temperatures Friday and remained perched atop a steel water tower 80-feet above the recreation yard of the Western Correctional Institution.

Lacking food or water since they sealed the tower, except for some candy bars, the prisoners showed no signs of relinquishing their perch, as prison authorities had predicted earlier Friday after reviewing the weather forecast.

Nine of the inmates have been on the catwalk of the tower since Tuesday. The tenth, Richard Payne, 29, who started the demonstration against "inhuman treatment" at the state prison, has been on the tower since Monday.

Thirst, hunger and the heat drove three of the original 13 convicts off the tower during the past two days. Prison officials drained the tank when they learned the inmates were getting water from a tap on the side of the tank.

Payne had spent about 24 hours on the tank alone. He was joined by 12 other inmates Tuesday evening. They carried food in their pockets, and an undetermined number of candy bars which officials say are just about exhausted.

Court Rules Cox Sentenced Quick

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Louisiana Supreme Court Friday ruled that the Rev. B. Elton Cox, field secretary of the Congress of Racial Equality, had been sentenced too quickly and ordered him released on bond until legal sentences are imposed.

The High Point, N. C., minister was convicted in Baton Rouge last Jan. 31 and immediately sentenced on charges stemming from a December 1961, anti-segregation demonstration which he led.

The opinion by Justice Joe B. Hamiter noted that there was no 24 hour delay between the conviction and sentencing, as required by law.

Special Money Bills Approved

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Eleven special money bills amounting to $925,972 cleared the Louisiana House Friday and headed for the Senate.

Most important of the bills was the $607,200 appropriation for legislative scholarships at colleges and universities. It won 77-1 passage.

Another bill was for $100,000 to reimburse St. Bernard Parish School Board for expenses incurred last school year in providing school for students from Orleans Parish.

PECK'S STATION (Special) — A parent connected, the sheriff's department said. Pictures and fingerprints have identified an intruder shot down to death here just before dawn.

An auger, bit and saw were found at the scene Friday. The intruders started chipping away at the wall about 3 a.m.

Thursday as Charles Edward Mince, 31, of Kenner, deputy sheriff Max Good said late enough to go through at 4 a.m.

the time of the shooting, according to deputies.

Buckshot felled Mince as he wriggled through a hole chipped in the brick wall of W. C. Knott's grocery store in this Catahoula Parish town north of Sicily Island.

Mince's body was at present at Young's Funeral Home in Kenner while his companion remains at large.

Authorities said Watts pushed aside two cases of beer as he began crawling through the hole. The blast fired by Cowart struck Watts in the left shoulder, it was reported. The dead man was wearing gloves.

Deputy Good was dispatched to Baton Rouge early Thursday with pictures and fingerprints of the intruder. He returned Thursday morning.

Participating in the investigation were Sheriff George McGee, Baton Rouge early Thursday with pictures and fingerprints of the intruder. He returned Thursday morning.

Peck's station is located about five miles north of Sicily Island in Catahoula Parish on the Franklin Parish line.

Authorities reported they found an abandoned white Buick, which had been stolen Thursday, about a mile and one-half from Peck's Station. It had been headed in the direction of Sicily Island.

The Knott's store had been burglarized June 20, and burglars got away with about $500 after entering the firm from the roof to escape detection from a burglar alarm which had been installed.

It was the seventh time in a two year period that robberies had been tried at the firm, authorities said.

The burglary attempt Friday and the one a week ago were apparently three empty .25-caliber shells outside the building.

SHOT IN AREA

Body Identified As Kenner Man

PECK'S STATION (Special) — Pictures and fingerprints have identified an intruder shotgunned to death here just before dawn Thursday as Charles Edward Mince, 31, of Kenner, deputy sheriff. Max Good said late Thursday.

Buckshot felled Mince as he wriggled through a hole chipped in the brick wall of W. C. Knott's grocery store in this Catahoula Parish town north of Sicily Island.

Mince's body is at present at Young's Funeral Home in Ferriday while his companion remains at large.

Deputy Good was dispatched to Baton Rouge early Thursday with pictures and fingerprints of the intruder. He returned Thursday night.

In the shooting, apparently connected, the sheriff's department said.

An auger, bit and saw were found at the scene Friday.

The intruders started chipping away at the wall about 3 a.m. and finally had a hole large enough to go through at 4 a.m., the time of the shooting, according to deputies.

Authorities said Watts pushed aside two cases of beer as he began crawling through the hole.

The blast fired by Cowart struck Watts in the left shoulder, it was reported. The dead man was wearing gloves.

Participating in the investigation were Sheriff George McGee, deputies Max Good, Watson Higgins, C. A. McGuire, state trooper Thoms Jackson, coroner Dr. Charlie Passman, and others.

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Air transport planes dropped thousands of South Vietnamese troops into a jungle area 40 miles north of Saigon Friday in a search for Communist Viet Cong guerrillas and their leaders.

Informed sources said the operation — second massive effort against the Viet Cong in a week — was believed planned on the basis of information learned from U.S. Army Spec. 4 George Fryett, who was released last week after six months of Communist captivity.

Preliminary reports said no contact had yet been made with the Viet Cong. The search itself was in the Tay Ninh-Binh Duong provincial border area where the Communists have carried out a series of ambushes in recent weeks. Two American officers were killed in one of the ambushes.

Spy Bail-Jumper May Be Expelled

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector relations between Washington and (AP)—Speedy deportation seemed to be in store Friday for Dr. Robert A. Soblen, the bail-jumping Soviet spy who sought asylum in Israel from life imprisonment in the United States.

Israeli papers urged that Soblen be ousted, some citing his presence as a potential irritant in the government's relations with Washington.

Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion's Cabinet had a flurry of activity on receipt of a request from the U.S. State Department, via Israeli Ambassador Abe Harman, for return of Soblen to begin serving the term for which he was supposed to surrender Thursday in New York.

It was learned authoritatively the government is not willing to grant the 62-year-old Jewish psychiatrist a visa that would permit him to stay in Israel, whether as a short-term visitor or as a settler under the 1950 Law of Return.

The legal right of every Jew to settle in Israel is a fundamental principle of this nation, but the government retains—and uses—the right to expel undesirables.

Interior Minister Y. C. Shapiro has authority to deport persons with criminal records, though he must state his reasons and perhaps defend the expulsion orders in court. In this case he was expected to consult with Ben-Gurion and the foreign and justice ministries as well.

Soblen remained in the hospital ward of Ramleh Prison near Tel Aviv, where he was arrested Thursday on suspicion of using fraudulent documents to enter Israel from his arrival from New York via an American liner Tuesday.

A prison source said Soblen underwent a blood test which confirmed he has leukemia. It was the presence of this fatal blood disease that prompted a New York federal judge to sentence him to life imprisonment rather than the electric chair on his conviction last year of spying for Moscow for two decades.

Five ambulances and half a dozen fire trucks were lined up at Hill, 30 miles from here, as the giant plane headed in.

But there was no trouble. The plane stopped about halfway down a 13,500-foot runway.

UAL dispatched buses from Salt Lake to return the 108 passengers and seven crewmen.

Jet In Trouble Lands Safely With 115 Aboard

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—A United Air Lines jet plane with 115 persons aboard developed hydraulic trouble over Salt Lake City on Friday but made a safe landing at a nearby Air Force base.

UAL said the Boeing 720 bound from Cleveland was directed to Hill City Air Force Base and the longer runways there as a precaution and that it wasn't an emergency.

The plane, UAL's flight No. 725, was running 45 minutes late after a stop at Denver when the hydraulic trouble was discovered.

The pilot, Capt. J. W. Barlow of San Francisco, started circling the Great Salt Lake to burn up and drop excess fuel before attempting a landing.

Five ambulances and half a dozen fire trucks were lined up at Hill, 30 miles from here, as the giant plane headed in.

Governor Davis Signs 23 Bills

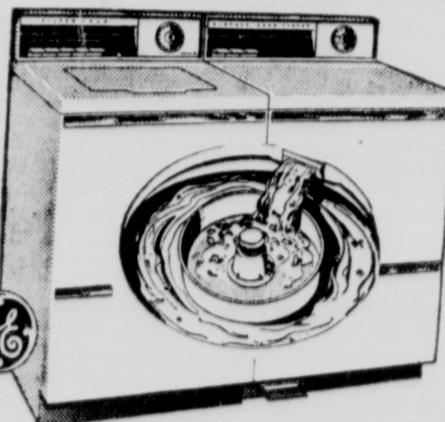

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Gov. Jimmie H. Davis signed 23 bills Friday, including a repeal of the act creating the educational expense grant fund for private school pupils.

The governor also signed an act creating the Belle Chasse state school for retarded children to be located south of New Orleans.

The educational expense grant fund is being replaced in the governor's program to perfect a separate grants in aid system of education in Louisiana.

Other legislation in the current 60-day session sets up a "Louisiana Financial Assistance Fund" to receive $200,000 monthly from Louisiana's two per cent sales tax.

Two were fined for disturbing the peace.

Unemployment In Baton Rouge, Orleans Rises

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Unemployment continued to increase in the New Orleans and Baton Rouge areas, reports of the Louisiana State Employment Service showed Friday, but there were turns for the better elsewhere in the state.

Employment dropped to 312,850 in May, 1,500 below the April total and 2,150 below the level of a year ago in the parishes of Orleans, Jefferson and St. Bernard.

At the same time, unemployment rose to 21,350, which represents 6.4 per cent of the area's civilian labor force, and the average weekly insured joblessness decreased 7,400. This was down 3 per cent from April.

Unemployment in East Baton Rouge climbed to 5,000 in May. Construction layoffs and more persons entering the unemployed rolls complicated the job situation.

Employment climbed higher in Caddo and Bossier parishes, 2,450 to a total of 98,975 in May. The unemployed figure was set at 4,650, or about 4.5 per cent of the civilian force. The total was 325 less than in April and 1,200 below a year ago.

There were reports of more employment and less unemployment in the parishes of Calcasieu, Ouachita, and the Rapides, Grant and Avoyelles areas.

Lafayette Parish had a slight seasonal upswing in unemployment, but the insured unemployment continued downward.

Land-Grant Centennial

Louisiana State University, located principally at Baton Rouge, is one of the 68 institutions of higher learning which are joining in observing the centennial of the United States land-grant act.

One hundred years ago—on July 2, 1862—President Abraham Lincoln affixed his signature to a historical piece of legislation and laid the cornerstone for agricultural development in America.

Closely following another history-making event—the creation of the United States department of agriculture—the document is commonly called the Morrill land-grant act.

Revolutionary in concept, it expressed the unprecedented doctrine that higher education in America should not only be academic, but practical, and that it should be available not just to a privileged few but to all who could benefit from it.

To the provisions of this far-reaching act of congress, the field of agriculture and the 68 land-grant institutions owe a substantial measure of their growth and development.

Among the leaders of his time who had the vision and foresight to recognize the need for a system of education institutions "of the people, by the people and for the people" was Senator Justin Smith Morrill, acknowledged leader of the act. A blacksmith's son, whose formal education ended at age 15, Morrill conceived the land-grant idea as a means of self-help for "those at the bottom of the ladder who want to climb up." He was convinced that ability and desire, not individual wealth, status or birth, should determine who went to college.

The land-grant act devoted particular attention to agriculture. An observer of the 1850s remarked that "there is not one institution designed to furnish the agriculturist . . . with the education that will prepare him for the profession to which his life is devoted."

To encourage the establishment of at least one "agricultural and mechanical arts" college in each state, the act provided that the federal government would grant to each participating state 30,000 acres of land for each senator and representative it sent to congress. Funds obtained from the sale of these lands would be used as a permanent endowment for these institutions.

"Other scientific and classical studies" were provided for in the new colleges and, perhaps because the nation was at war, a provision for military training, the basis of the present Reserve Officers Training Corp. was included.

The road to democracy in higher education was not a swift and certain one. Five and a half years

Kennedy's Closed Eyes

Human nature is such that everyone likes to hear only good about himself—nothing bad or unfavorable. Some people, however, don't close their eyes and ears if the unfavorable things are being said. Kennedy seems to be one who does.

The president's selection of newspapers appears to be based rather largely on whether or not those journals laud him or condemn him. If they praise him, he likes them but if they criticize him he doesn't. This applies also to his views of the publishers.

There has been some publicity on the president's cancelling, or ordering cancelled, at least two widely read newspapers.

When Ted Dealy, publisher of the Dallas Morning News, sharply criticized President Kennedy and said in effect that what the nation had wanted was a man on elapsing from the time the land-grant bill was introduced in congress until its final passage.

While the land-grant act provided impetus for the development of agricultural and mechanical colleges, many states had benefited from earlier grants similar in nature.

The first step that eventually would lead to a "greater Louisiana State University" was taken in 1844 when the legislature authorized the governor to sell and which in 1803 had been set aside for "a seminary of learning." This land sale netted $136,000, which was placed in an endowment fund for education.

Louisiana qualified as a recipient of a federal grant under the terms of the Morrill act in 1869, when the state accepted the provisions of the act. With seven congressmen in Washington, the state was awarded 210,000 acres of land which later sold for $182,313.03, an average of about 87 cents an acre.

This sum, combined with the previously established seminary fund, yields an annual revenue of $14,555.56 to L.S.U. This financial aid was of great assistance during L.S.U.'s early history as struggling institution of learning.

Under the terms of the land-grant act, the first agricultural and mechanical arts college in Louisiana was established in New Orleans in 1874. Three years later it was transferred to Baton Rouge, thus giving L.S.U. the distinction of being a state university and land-grant agricultural and mechanical college.

Louisiana, primarily an agricultural area since its settlement more than two centuries ago, has reaped untold benefits from the new knowledge and continued progress in agriculture which land-grant institutions made possible.

It is of lasting credit to this nation that, during the darkest period of its history, such enlightened legislation should emerge. In 1862 the nation was at war with itself, with brother opposing brother in the bloody Civil War. Despite the perilous times, the developing nation remained strong in the minds of Americans.

Then the government was interested in helping the states help themselves in education. Deplorably, our present government is seeking subjugation of the authority of the states and is moving toward centralization of all authority in Washington. There is far too much evidence that greed in personal power, rather than a genuine desire for national advancement, under the free-enterprise system, is the dominating incentive of our present federal government.

For years since, I have been unemployed — only an occasional temporary job outside the government since. I'd exhausted every possibility of employment long ago — found myself with no money to even look for work — and that's how it has been for years.

No friends, no chance of marriage, no work — but one in a blue moon trying to find an occasional persons needing typing at home, and succeeding. Every winter, while other people live in snug, warm homes, and have no end of clothes — my mother and I dig wood out of the snow, nearly freeze to death. We've experienced zero nights with no heat at all. Summers, there is enough to eat only the first half of every month.

The second half of each month I try desperately to find someone needing typing — and when I can't find it, I usually have to go to a neighbor and ask for food, or phone a church and ask

California Worries JFK

President Thinks Democrats Must Carry Golden State If His Chances Are To Remain Good

President Kennedy is worriedly pondering how, in this fall's momentous state and congressional elections, he can best make use of that old refrain, "California, here I come!"

Two factors are behind the President's uncertainty:

First is the stark reality that California is the major political battleground for the Democrats this year — due to their prospects in New York being virtually nil.

Barring a wholly undiscernible upset, Governor Nelson Rockefeller and Senator Jacob Javits will be re-elected by big majorities. Under these circumstances, White House strategists, already girding for the 1964 presidential struggle, deem it imperative to carry the Golden State — where Governor Edmund Brown is running for a second term, and eight new congressional seats are at stake.

Loss of California would be a solar plexus blow to the President's own re-election aspirations.

The second reason is the widely differing advice he is getting from top California leaders. All of them eagerly want him to campaign there, but vary sharply on how to do it.

One group, headed by Jesse Unruh, hefty State Assembly Speaker, is urging the President to make at least two straight-out electioneering tours through the State.

Another faction is strongly counseling caution. It's recommending not more than one trip; to be made under conditions not avowably political; and aimed primarily at the densely populated southern section with the main California ballot.

This group also is stressing the need to give all the help the President can muster.

Extreme Poverty

Woman Can't Find Work And She And Mother Often Hungry

Every week I receive many letters which begin with an apology. "I'm sorry to be taking up your time with such an inconsequential symptom as an occasional headache, but—" However, when you read the following letter, received this morning, you will know why I am happy that your complaints are minor ones.

Dear Dr. Steinrohn: I wonder whether you can tell me, please, what is the matter with me? I'm so sorry to be taking up your time with such an inconsequential symptom as an occasional headache, but—. However, when you read the following letter, received this morning, you will know why I am happy that your complaints are minor ones.

Dear Dr. Steinrohn: I've decided to have a "nose-job." Whenever I look at a mirror in profile, I'm in danger of cracking the glass. I'm young, I want to enjoy life. Am I doing the wrong thing tampering with nature? — Miss D.

Comment: Nature will forgive you. Whenever she slips up, she has no hard feelings when the human being tries to improve on her work. But be sure to choose a good plastic surgeon. Your nose doctor or family physician will recommend a well-trained man — perhaps one who is a member of the American Board of Plastic Surgeons.

Dr. Steinrohn's leaflet, "How to Manage Arthritis," will be mailed on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and 10 cents in coin for handling. Address your request to Dr. Steinrohn, c/o this newspaper.

The Unruh element doesn't exactly fit in with this, but they are not against the President's throwing his weight behind Governor Brown and his slate. But the Unruh faction argues that capturing congressional seats is of principal moment to the President, and that's what he should concentrate on in his electioneering.

Party critics of Unruh are darkly hinting this opinion may be patently influenced by his own political ambitions.

They are crediting the bulky Assembly Speaker with being more interested in gaining domination of the states Democratic machinery than re-electing Brown and his ticket. Also with having his eye on the governorship in 1966.

Unruh has close ties in the White House; is consulted frequently by the President. White House insiders say Unruh figures prominently in the President's 1964 plans. Apparently Unruh is being groomed to organize and run that campaign in California.

He is giving every sign of being more than ready and willing.

CALIFORNIA FLASHES — Governor Brown has decided to accept Nixon's challenge to a radio-TV debate. After talking it over with advisers, Brown is preparing to announce he will debate with his GOP opponent . . . Fund raisers of both candidates are busily seeking contributions outside of California. With the blessing of the White House, emissaries of Brown are tapping big Democratic contributors throughout the country, and Nixon partisans are doing the same for him.

The latter are getting considerable help on that in the East from former Governor Thomas Dewey . . . Deputy Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach still hasn't solved the thorny problem he inherited from his predecessor, now Supreme Court Justice Byron White, of how to persuade California's Democratic congressional delegation to agree to the appointment of two Republicans to federal judgeships in their state.

White got nowhere on that, and Katzenbach isn't making any headway. Three federal judgeships are open in California, and Attorney General Robert Kennedy favors naming Republicans to two of them, one in the northern and the other in the southern part of the state. But the Democratic lawmakers are vigorously against this, and making no bones about it.

GOP POLITICALS — Nevada's Lieutenant Governor Rex Bell, one-time cowboy movie star, has tossed his hat into the ring for Governor. His running mate is Paul Laxalt, Carson City attorney, an unexpected choice . . . Former President and Mrs. Eisenhower will be accompanied on their forthcoming trip to Europe by their two older grandchildren, David, 14, and Anne, 13. Also in the party will be Mrs. Mary McCaffree, former White House social secretary, who is taking leave for this purpose from her job with the New York World's Fair. Colonel Robert Schultz, Eisenhower's aide, and a California friend and his son. During their trip, the Eisenhowers will stay at Culzean Castle, which the Scots presented to him after World War II . . . Republican National Chairman William Miller estimates there will be around 60 GOP candidates for House seats in the South this year. That will constitute a record in many decades.

DEMOCRATIC POLITICALS — Pennsylvania's former Democratic Governor George Leader is a hopeful aspirant for Food-for-Peace Director. Leader has the backing of Governor David Lawrence to succeed George McGovern, who is running for the Senate in South Dakota . . . Endicott Peabody, Cambridge, son of an Episcopal bishop and grandson of the Episcopal bishop who founded noted Groton School for boys, is the first Protestant endorsed for Governor by the Massachusetts Democratic State convention in 30 years . . . Sponsors of the fund-raising party for the senatorial campaign of Wisconsin's Governor Gaylord Nelson are saying that Senator William Proxmire, D-Wis., not only did not show up to it, Proxmire had declined to be chairman on the ground of a prior "commitment." Both he and his wife were absent from Washington when the reception took place.

Wastes In Navy

Letters Pouring In Offering Congressman Wilson Backing

When the American taxpayer is given the facts, he reacts strongly. Proof of this can be found in the letters which have poured into the office of Representative Earl Wilson since I began writing about his investigation of the waste and mismanagement in Pentagon procurement of military hardware. These letters come from all parts of the country. They not only offer encouragement but new leads for Mr. Wilson to follow. Those who wish to come forward ask only that they be protected from government retaliation.

Congressman Wilson has been fighting a lonely battle to force the Defense Department, and particularly the Navy, to negotiate contracts on the basis of competitive bidding. He has cited case after case in which favored manufacturers have been allowed to set a price for their product up to 34 per cent higher than it would normally cost. Other companies have not been allowed to offer lower bids of their own. The figures he has used come from the general accounting office, whose job it is to keep a watch on government spending. He has also examined the "justification" by the Pentagon for acting as it does, and he has found contradictions and the juggling of facts prevalent.

But his efforts to get some action have resulted in little more than the appointment of a 150-man task force in the Navy to find arguments in favor of the procedures now being used. These procedures are in clear violation of regulations set down to protect the federal purse from raids on it, which, Mr. Wilson estimates, are costing us some $12 billion. So far, the Pentagon has remained mute, hoping that if it does not answer Mr. Wilson's charges, things will quiet down. Fortunately for the American taxpayer, Earl Wilson has just begun to fight. If he puts enough facts and figures into the Congressional Record, it will be impossible to ignore them. If enough people write to Defense Secretary McNamara, perhaps corrective action will be taken.

But Mr. Wilson has gone beyond this. He has now begun to name those who are responsible. Taking up Navy procurement methods in contracting for the AN-PRC-41, a UHF (ultra high frequency) radio, he said to the House of Representatives: "It is time that Navy personnel . . . Given the need for federal economy, it is certainly reasonable that Mr. Wilson's very serious accusations should be turned over to a congressional investigating committee or to the department of Justice. There can be no cry of politics, if only because these practices have been going on since the end of World War II. Some Democrats and some Republicans will be hurt, but the taxpayer will benefit, and so will the federal budget and the national economy. Certainly, it should not require a 150-man team to find answers for Congressman Wilson. Nor should the Pentagon button up as if in preparation for a hurricane.

SYLVIA PORTER

'Profit Squeeze'

Writer Says Nothing Government Can Do Can Ease Pressure

Nothing the U. S. Government can do will beat the profit squeeze which is strangling an increasing number of U. S. corporations today and is dangerously limiting the growth of our economy.

No foreseeable business upswing from here will solve the fundamental problem of declining corporation profit ratios, for the simple reason that today's profit squeeze is basically due to intense and bitter competition and this will persist into the indefinite future.

There is no gift from the gods in prospect to restore corporation profits to the levels of earlier post-World War II years, when U. S. industry prospered under the brilliant economic combination of huge pent-up demands for goods, a vast accumulation of savings to buy goods, an exploding growth of new families needing everything we could produce, no competition worth noting.

Today's profit squeeze is one of the roughest ever. It can be beaten, but only by businessmen taking bold, broad, imaginative, stern, unsentimental, realistic actions on their own to do so.

Right now, in every industry which overall is in a pinch a few companies are doing just this. Other companies which want to triumph in the environment of the 1960s will have to follow similar courses.

These, in brief, are the conclusions of a detailed thought-provoking analysis of "The Second Squeeze on Profits" by J. Roger Morrison and Richard F. Neuschel, to be published in the July-August issue of the Harvard Business Review. Here's the heart of the study.

No matter what your sympathies or prejudices, the fact is that a profits squeeze does exist and the evidence is mounting that it has been retarding our growth. There is mounting concern that profits aren't high enough to finance the imperative replacement of our increasingly obsolete factories, much less to finance the enormous total of new plants needed to employ the additional 13 million workers entering our labor force before 1970.

This second squeeze differs from the first, in the 1950s, which was due primarily to the fact that rising costs outran rising prices on finished goods. This second squeeze is due to a declining rate of demand for established products and a slowing rate of demand for new products. It is due to the fact that many industries have substantial unused capacity, and this not only depresses prices but also sparks intense competition. It is due to skyrocketing foreign competition. It is due to the fact that prices have stabilized, and even in periods of sharp business upturn corporations can't hike their prices enough to absorb higher costs.

"No automatic relief is in sight" for this sort of squeeze, say Morrison and Neuschel. "There are no broad economic forces now in prospect to bring profits' up to a 'more satisfactory level.' Yet, the fact that in each industry some companies are conquering the squeeze emphasizes that his pinch is 'obviously sensitive to management action.' Specifically:

- (1) Cost reduction by decree — "arbitrary expense cutting" ranging from controlling use of paper clips to outlawing company planes. There are many instances where companies have slashed costs 10 to 25 per cent by this pressure but it has to be 'stern' and realistic.

Land-Grant Centennial

Louisiana State University, located principally at Baton Rouge, is one of the 68 institutions of higher learning which are joining in observing the centennial of the United States land-grant act.

One hundred years ago—on July 2, 1862—President Abraham Lincoln affixed his signature to a historical piece of legislation and laid the cornerstone for agricultural development in America.

Closely following another history-making event—the creation of the United States department of agriculture—the document is commonly called the Morrill land-grant act.

Revolutionary in concept, it expressed the unprecedent doctrine that higher education in America should not only be academic, but practical, and that it should be available not just to a privileged few but to all who could benefit from it.

To the provisions of this far-reaching act of congress, the field of agriculture and the 68 land-grant institutions owe a substantial measure of their growth and development.

Among the leaders of his time who had the vision and foresight to recognize the need for a system of education institutions "of the people, by the people and for the people" was Senator Justin Smith Morrill, acknowledged leader of the act. A blacksmith's son, whose formal education ended at age 15, Morrill conceived the land-grant idea as a means of self-help for "those at the bottom of the ladder who want to climb up." He was convinced that ability and desire, not individual wealth, status or birth, should determine who went to college.

The land-grant act devoted particular attention to agriculture. An observer of the 1850s remarked that "there is not one institution designed to furnish the agriculturist... with the education that will prepare him for the profession to which his life is devoted."

To encourage the establishment of at least one "agricultural and mechanical arts" college in each state, the act provided that the federal government would grant to each participating state 30,000 acres of land for each senator and representative it sent to congress. Funds obtained from the sale of these lands would be used as a permanent endowment for these institutions.

"Other scientific and classical studies" were provided for in the new colleges and, perhaps because the nation was at war, a provision for military training, the basis of the present Reserve Officers Training Corp. was included.

The road to democracy in higher education was not a swift and certain one. Five and a half years

Kennedy's Closed Eyes

Human nature is such that everyone likes to hear only good about himself—nothing bad or unfavorable. Some people, however, don't close their eyes and ears if the unfavorable things are being said. Kennedy seems to be one who does.

The president's selection of newspapers appears to be based rather largely on whether or not those journals laud him or condemn him. If they praise him, he likes them but if they criticize him he doesn't. This applies also to his views of the publishers.

There has been some publicity on the president's cancelling, or ordering cancelled, at least two widely read newspapers.

When Ted Dealy, publisher of the Dallas Morning News, sharply criticized President Kennedy and said in effect that what the nation had wanted was a man on elapsed from the time the land-grant bill was introduced in congress until its final passage.

While the land-grant act provided impetus for the development of agricultural and mechanical colleges, many states had benefited from earlier grants similar in nature.

The first step that eventually would lead to a "greater Louisiana State University" was taken in 1844 when the legislature authorized the governor to sell and which in 1803 had been set aside for "a seminary of learning." This land sale netted $136,000, which was placed in an endowment fund for education.

Louisiana qualified as a recipient of a federal grant under the terms of the Morrill act in 1869, when the state accepted the provisions of the act. With seven congressmen in Washington, the state was awarded 210,000 acres of land which later sold for $182,313.03, an average of about 87 cents an acre.

This sum, combined with the previously established seminary fund, yields an annual revenue of $14,555.56 to L.S.U. This financial aid was of great assistance during L.S.U.'s early history as a struggling institution of learning.

Under the terms of the land-grant act, the first agricultural and mechanical arts college in Louisiana was established in New Orleans in 1874. Three years later it was transferred to Baton Rouge, thus giving L.S.U. the distinction of being a state university and land-grant agricultural and mechanical college.

Louisiana, primarily an agricultural area since its settlement more than two centuries ago, has reaped untold benefits from the new knowledge and continued progress in agriculture which land-grant institutions made possible.

It is of lasting credit to this nation that, during the darkest period of its history, such enlightened legislation should emerge. In 1862 the nation was at war with itself, with brother opposing brother in the bloody Civil War. Despite the perilous times, the development of education for a growing nation remained strong in the minds of Americans.

Then the government was interested in helping the states help themselves in education. Deplorably, our present government is seeking subjugation of the authority of the states and is moving toward centralization of all authority in Washington. There is far too much evidence that greed in personal power, rather than a genuine desire for national advancement under the free-enterprise system, is the dominating incentive of our present federal government.

Dear Dr. Steinrohn: I wonder whether you can tell me, please, has anyone else ever had problems as miserable as my mother's and mine? We were living in New York when my father died suddenly of a heart attack. I was 13 at the time, and a year later my mother moved to my grandmother's home in Virginia. We lived there two years, with no modern conveniences, taking care of her ailing brother, who also died. Then, years more taking care of her mother, who died at age 93. I spent several years working for the government.

For years since, I have been unemployed—only an occasional temporary job outside the government since. I'd exhausted every possibility of employment long ago—found myself with no money to even look for work—and that's how it has been for years.

No friends, no chance of marriage, no work—but one in a blue moon trying to find an occasional persons needing typing at home, and succeeding. Every winter, while other people live in snug, warm homes, and have no end of clothes—my mother and I dug wood out of the snow, nearly freeze to death. We've experienced zero nights with no heat at all. Summers, there is enough to eat only the first half of every month.

The second half of each month I try desperately to find some needing typing—and when I can't find it, I usually have to go to a neighbor and ask for food, or phone a church and ask

California Worries JFK

President Thinks Democrats Must Carry Golden State If His Chances Are To Remain Good

President Kennedy is worriedly pondering how, in this fall's momentous state and congressional elections, he can best make use of that old refrain, "California, here I come!"

Two factors are behind the President's uncertainty:

First is the stark reality that California is the major political battleground for the Democrats this year—due to their prospects in New York being virtually nil.

Party critics of Unruh are darkly hinting this opinion may be partially influenced by his own political ambitions.

They are crediting the bulky Assembly Speaker with being more interested in gaining domination of the states Democratic machinery than re-electing Brown and his ticket. Also with having his eye on the governorship in 1966.

Unruh has close ties in the White House; is consulted frequently by the President. White House insiders say Unruh figures prominently in the President's 1964 plans. Apparently Unruh is being groomed to organize and run that campaign in California.

He is giving every sign of being more than ready and willing.

CALIFORNIA FLASHES—Governor Brown has decided to accept Nixon's challenge to a radio-TV debate. After talking it over with advisers, Brown is preparing to announce he will begin with his GOP opponent.

Fund raisers of both candidates are busily seeking contributions outside of California. With the blessing of the White House, emissaries of Brown are tapping big Democratic contributors throughout the country, and Nixon partisans are doing the same for him.

He is giving every sign of being more than ready and willing.

One group, headed by Jesse Unruh, hefty State Assembly Speaker, is urging the President to make at least two straight-out electioneering tours through the State.

Another faction is strongly counseled caution. It's recommending not more than one trip; to be made under conditions not avowably political; and aimed primarily at the densely populated southern section with the main California ballot.

This group also is stressing the need to give the State Democratic ticket all the help the President can muster.

Munson Pushes Two-Term Bill

The commission won a major battle with the administration Wednesday on a bill creating a central listing of all unclassified state employees.

But the bill was amended by Rep. Riley Triche, a floor leader, to make the list confidential except to legislators.

The commission will face another fight Sunday night on both special order measures, which require a two-thirds majority for passage.

The bill authorizing the governor, not to include Gov. Jimmie H. Davis, to succeed himself gained 65 votes on a previous house test while the veto measure received 60.

Bill bills need 70 votes for final adoption.

Rep. Richard Bertrand of Lafayette voiced dissatisfaction Friday with the commission's bill creating a budget committee.

bracket and imposing a 15 per cent rate on the lower portion. The present 20 per cent would apply on the second $1,000 of taxable income, so that the over-all effective rate for the present bottom-bracket would be 17.5 per cent.

3. Adjusting all in-between rates proportionately.

4. Reducing the corporation rate from 52 to 47 per cent.

"Reduction of personal income taxes will increase take-home pay and hopefully reduce the pressure for wage increases," said chamber President H. Ladd Plumley.

Plumley announced the recommendations of the chamber's board of directors at a news conference.

It was the first such proposal proposed that major reductions be made in the lower income brackets, to provide more buying power at the consumer level. Asked why the chamber put its emphasis on the higher brackets, Plumley said the chamber's directors believe the greatest urgency is to release funds for productive investment, rather than for the building of consumer demand.

A similar view was voiced by Donald J. Hardenbrook, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, on a television program Thursday night.

President Kennedy has announced plans for an across-the-board tax cut effective next Jan. 1. He told his news conference Wednesday his economic advisers were watching developments closely and would recommend a reduction sooner if this is deemed advisable.

Asked directly if he foresees a business recession, Plumley said it is plain that there is a "dragging" in the economy, but he said: "I don't think a recession is coming."

House Passes TV Channel Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed by voice vote and sent to President Kennedy Friday a bill that would require television set manufacturers to equip sets to receive 82 channels.

The legislation, passed earlier by the Senate, calls for all sets to be able to receive the 12 very high frequency — vhf — channels now in widest use, plus 70 less-used ultra high frequency — uhf — channels.

Its purpose is to stimulate the growth of uhf television, which offers the only avenue open to large-scale expansion in the field.

Newton N. Minow, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, has called the legislation vital to the national interest.

OAS Supports Independence For Algerians

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — The European Secret Army Organization dramatically joined with its old Moslem enemies Friday to urge an overwhelming vote for Algerian independence in Sunday's self-determination referendum.

"These gentlemen had a real opportunity for a real bill," he said.

But Rep. Edward J. LeBreton of New Orleans pointed out that under the Constitution the government is charged with the responsibility of the budget.

"I don't know where Mr. Bertrand came up with that," LeBreton said.

But Bertrand said, "You'll never give this House the authority it deserves unless you divorce it from the executive branch."

The bill provides that the committee shall be composed of five senators, eight representatives, the chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, the chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, the lieutenant governor and the governor.

Davis appointed a budget committee prior to the current session, but in the past the legislature has not had a committee to study state finances before the lawmakers convene.

"Personally," Munson said, "I would have no objection to letting the members elect the committee. But as Mr. LeBreton pointed out, the governor is charged under the constitution with the budget."

Rep. Bryan Lehmann, a floor leader, of Norco took issue with Bertrand, a former Earl Long admirer who has been a critic of the Davis administration.

Lehmann added, "When Earl Long was in, I sat in my seat. Now when Russell Long is elected, Mr. Bertrand and I might be close floor leaders."

IN FORGERY CASE

District Court Term Suspended

Fourth District Court Judge Jesse Heard Friday suspended the five years to which he had sentenced West Monroian Aubrey C. Causey, 21, and placed him on probation. He was charged with forgery.

Causey, as well as three others Friday, had earlier pleaded guilty and been remanded for sentencing.

Given five years in Angola was Monroe Negro John Thomas, 35, alias Willie Charles Thomas, of Monroe. He will serve two current terms for forgery.

Charles Dorvin Poete, 27, and Roger Roberson, 29, both received four and one-half years for forgery, the terms to run concurrent with those they have already received for offenses in Winn Parish. Both are from West Monroe.

In other action, a Houston, Tex., man, Elzie E. Hamilton, pleaded guilty to four counts of forgery. A pre-sentencing investigation was ordered.

Hamilton was apprehended Thursday by the sheriff's department after writing three checks for $37.23 and one for $41.37.

Trial for West Monroian Maurice J. Laird, accused of the theft on two counts, was set for November 7 after he pleaded not guilty. Laird is accused of stealing $20, gasoline and cash, from Skoog's service station on Louisville Ave. June 8 and $40 from the Rendevous June 19.

James Charles Traylor was remanded for pre-sentencing investigation after he pleaded guilty to automobile theft.

In misdemeanor action Judge Heard fined three defendants $200 and costs and set trial for another on driving while intoxicated charges.

Fined were Leroy Limon Dickens, 58, of DeRidder; Albert Vida, 412 Columbia St., Monroe; and Edward W. Mercer, 38, Route 5, West Monroe.

Trial for Negro Ray Anderson, 20, 3106 Jackson Street, Monroe, was set for September 21 after he pleaded not guilty.

Knight Infant's Services Pending

The infant daughter of J. C. and Virginia Knight of Monroe died in a local hospital Friday night. The child died at birth.

The arrangements are incomplete. Burial will be in Wilmette, Ark.

Survivors are the parents; one sister, Cheryl Knight, Monroe; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Reed, Wilmette, Ark.; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Knight, Portland, Ark.; and a great-grandmother, Mrs. Missie Cunningham, Monroe, Ark.

Officers in Monroe were investigating the burglary, around noon, of the home of Negro Jessie Lewis at 1406 Washington St. Taken from the house, after entry was gained by breaking a window, was a pocket size radio.

A felony theft was being probed for J. R. Roark of Roark Brothers at 703 Jackson St., who reported the loss of a folding organ valued at $152.94. Roark told police he let a Negro have the instrument June 12 on a down payment of $20 and later found it had been bought under another Negro's name.

Rail Officials Accept Offer Of Arbitration

WASHINGTON (AP) — The railroads accepted on Friday a government proposal to arbitrate their manpower economy dispute with five unions representing 200,000 on-train rail employees.

The unions have not yet responded to the request made Wednesday by the National Mediation Board under terms of the Railway Labor Act.

J. E. Wolfe, chairman of the Western Carriers' Conference Committee and chief rail industry labor negotiator, accepted arbitration on behalf of the industry.

Wolfe said efforts to bargain out a solution of the manpower problems along lines recommended by a presidential commission have been unavailing. The commission recommended gradual elimination of about 40,000 freight train firemen found to be unnecessary, and broad leeway was given for speed brakes at the rear of the carriers to make other manpower economies in the future.

But it was still below the 1,250

degrees recorded on earlier flights.

A conventional plane can go to about 400 degrees before its metal weakens.

Prime purpose of the flight was to determine which parts of the X15 surface become hottest. This will aid in design of future craft.

A secondary purpose of the flight was to re-introduce McKay to the souped up X15 that has flown 4,159 m.p.h. and up to 250,000 feet while he was on other assignments.

Officials estimated the temperatures reached 1,000 degrees on parts of the special steel-nickel alloy outer surface. Air friction made the ship hot enough to blister its black paint and run streaks of white through a special green thermal paint on parts of tail and stubby wings turned red hot as did large flaps used for speed brakes at the rear of the 52-foot craft.

But it was still below the 1,250

degrees recorded on earlier flights.

The X15 dropped away from under the wing of its B-57 mother ship at an altitude of 45,000 feet at 10:41 a.m. It landed nine minutes later.

He hit 3,204 miles an hour and climbed to 83,000 feet for the test.

House Passes TV Channel Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed by voice vote and sent to President Kennedy Friday a bill that would require television set manufacturers to equip sets to receive 82 channels.

The legislation, passed earlier by the Senate, calls for all sets to be able to receive the 12 very high frequency — vhf — channels now in widest use, plus 70 less used ultra high frequency — uhf — channels.

Its purpose is to stimulate the growth of uhf television, which offers the only avenue open to large-scale expansion in the field.

Newton N. Minow, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, has called the legislation vital to the national interest.

OAS Supports Independence For Algerians

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — The European Secret Army Organization dramatically joined with its old Moslem enemies Friday to urge an overwhelming vote for Algerian independence in Sunday's self-determination referendum.

"I ask you to have confidence in the future," secret army leader Jean-Jacques Susini said in a clandestine radio broadcast beamed to Algiers' European population.

Susini, one of the main organizers of the European terrorist network, called for a yes vote on "Algeria of courage, progress and fraternity."

"We should construct this country with all those who have given us their hand," Susini declared.

Meanwhile feverish preparations were under way to set up an estimated 6,500 polling stations for Algeria's six million voters registered for the crucial referendum.

Davis appointed a budget committee prior to the current session, but in the past the legislature has not had a committee to study state finances before the lawmakers convene.

"Personally," Munson said, "I would have no objection to letting the members elect the committee. But as Mr. LeBreton pointed out, the governor is charged with the constitution with the budget."

Rep. Bryan Lehmann, a floor leader of Norco took issue with Bertrand, a former Earl Long leader who has been a critic of the Davis administration.

Lehmann added, "When Earl Long was in, I sat in my seat. Now when Russell Long is elected, Mr. Bertrand and I might be close floor leaders."

Observers said the expected yes answer might go as high as 99 per cent of the vote.

In Tunis, Ben Youssef Ben Khedda, premier of the Algerian provisional government in exile, declared his Cabinet is prepared for the transition.

Ben Khedda said in a radio address that his regime is ready to take over from the French government-appointed Provisional Executive, which has been running Algeria's internal affairs since the March 19 cease-fire agreement.

William Charles Causey, 19, Emerson, Ark., and Willie B. Ruston, 47, 309 Florida Street, Ruston, failed to appear and their bonds were called. Both were charged with driving while intoxicated.

Causey, as well as three others

Friday, had earlier pleaded guilty and been remanded for sentencing.

Given five years in Angola was Monroe Negro John Thomas, 35, alias Willie Charles Thomas, of Monroe. He will serve two concurrent terms for forgery.

Charles Dorvin Poteet, 27, and Roger Roberson, 29, both received four and one-half years for forgery, the terms to run concurrent with those they have already received for offenses in Winn Parish. Both are from West Monroe.

In other action, a Houston, Tex. man, Elzie E. Hamilton, pleaded guilty to four counts of forgery. A pre-sentencing investigation was ordered.

Hamilton was apprehended Thursday by the sheriff's department after writing three checks for $37.23 and one for $41.37.

Trial for West Monroyan Maurice J. Laird, accused of theft on two counts, was set for November 7 after he pleaded not guilty.

Laird is accused of stealing $20, gasoline and cash, from Skoog's service station on Louisville Ave. June 8 and $40 from the Rendezvous Inn.

James Charles Traylor was remanded for pre-sentencing investigation after he pleaded guilty to automobile theft.

In misdemeanor action Judge Heard fined three defendants $300 and costs and set trial for another on driving while intoxicated charges.

Fined were Leroy Limon Dickens, 58, of DeRidder; Albert Vida, 412 Columbia St., Monroe; and Edward W. Mercer, 38, Route 5, West Monroe.

Trial for Negro Ray Anderson, 20, 3106 Jackson Street, Monroe, was set for September 21 after he pleaded not guilty.

Knight Infant's Services Pending

The infant daughter of J. C. and Virginia Knight of Monroe died in a local hospital Friday night. The child died at birth.

The arrangements are incomplete. Burial will be in Wilmette, Ark.

Survivors are the parents; one sister, Cheryl Knight, Monroe; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Reed, Wilmette, Ark.; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Knight, Portland, Ark.; and a great-grandmother, Mrs. Missie Cunningham, Montrose, Ark.

Officers in Monroe were investigating the burglary, around noon, of the home of Negro Jessie Lewis, at 1406 Washington St. Taken from the house, after entry was gained by breaking a window, was a pocket size radio.

A felony theft was being probed for J. R. Roark of Roark Brothers at 703 Jackson St., who reported the loss of a folding organ valued at $152.94. Roark told police he let a Negro have the instrument June 12 on a down payment of $20 and later found it had been bought under another Negro's name.

which would be named by the governor.

Bertrand favored an election of the committee by the Legislature, explaining, "Unless you do that, you don't have anything."

"These gentlemen had a real opportunity for a real bill," he said.

But Rep. Edward J. LeBreton of New Orleans pointed out that under the Constitution the governor is charged with the responsibility of the budget.

"I don't know where Mr. Bertrand came up with that Bolshevik idea," LeBreton said.

But Bertrand said, "You'll never give this House the authority it deserves unless you divorce it from the executive branch."

The bill provides that the committee shall be composed of five senators, eight representatives, the chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, the chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, the lieutenant governor and the governor.

Davis appointed a budget committee prior to the current session, but in the past the legislature has not had a committee to study state finances before the lawmakers convene.

Rail Officials Accept Offer Of Arbitration

WASHINGTON (AP) — The railroads accepted on Friday a government proposal to arbitrate their manpower economy dispute with five unions representing 200,000 on-train rail employees.

The unions have not yet responded to the request made Wednesday by the National Mediation Board under terms of the Railway Labor Act.

J. E. Wolfe, chairman of the Western Carriers' Conference Committee and chief rail industry labor negotiator, accepted arbitration on behalf of the industry.

Officials estimated the temperatures reached 1,000 degrees on parts of the special steel-nickel alloy outer surface. Air friction made the ship hot enough to blister its black paint and run streaks of white through a special green thermal paint on parts of the sleek craft.

Officials said efforts to bargain out a solution of the manpower problems along lines recommended by a presidential commission have been unavailing. The commission recommended gradual elimination of about 40,000 freight train firemen found to be unnecessary, and broad leeway for the carriers to make other manpower economies in the future.

But it was still below the 1,250

degrees recorded on earlier flights.

A conventional plane can go about 400 degrees before its metal weakens.

Prime purpose of the flight was to determine which parts of the X1

House Okays Bartholomew Water Area

BATON ROUGE (Staff Special) — The House gave final passage Friday to a bill sponsored by the Ouachita-Morehouse delegations creating the Bayou Bartholomew Water District.

Rep. Mike John Jr. and Rep. Lawrence Gibbs of Monroe quickly thanked Rep. James McCormack and Sen. W. T. Carpenter of Bastrop for their support with the legislation.

The bill, which now goes to Gov. Jimmie H. Davis for his signature, creates the Bartholomew Water District in the Sterlington Area.

A pump facility is planned by the Department of Public Works for Bayou Bartholomew to take water from the bayou for Dead Bayou and Bayou DeSiard.

"Six years of hard work has produced a great benefit to Ouachita and Morehouse with the passage of this legislation," Gibbs said.

Legislation to permit Ouachita to tap Bartholomew failed to gain the approval of both Ouachita and Morehouse officials.

"I would like to publicly thank our friends from the Morehouse delegation for their co-operation with the Ouachita delegation in order that this benefit could be made possible," Gibbs said.

The bill creates a six-man board, which will be comprised of three members from each of the two parishes.

John said, "On behalf of Rep. Gibbs and Sen. James Adcock, I also want to add my appreciation to the Morehouse delegation and the people of Morehouse Parish for their splendid support in this wonderful undertaking."

"It will not only assist the City of Monroe in providing a safe water supply but also will increase the benefits of water for industry, agriculture, recreation and fishing," John said.

BOWNES, Alta. (AP) — Jack Dunbar says people just won't take wooden nickels. He told the Town Council he bought 50,000 for last year's jubilee and got rid of only 15,000.

LEGION EXHIBITION

Monroe Gets Six In Fifth, Knocks Off Winnfield, 6-4

By STUART HILL
World Sports Writer

Monro's Fifth District American Legion team turned in a seven-inning, six-run fifth inning to edge out Winnfield, 6-4, in an exhibition tilt Friday night at American Legion Stadium.

Neal Gunn and Lynn Causey combined for the local squad in the error-filled tilt with Gunn taking the win, his first in as many starts.

The Winn Parish Sheriff's Department squad, trailing 6-1 going into the final frame, started a two-out three run rally aided by three Monroe errors, to pose a threat before Causey fanned Winnfield firstbaseman Bob Taylor.

Winnfield jumped off to a quick one-run lead in the first inning and led the host team for five stanzas before Monroe rallied for six runs in the fifth.

Pinch hitting Roy Walton began the Brown-Rivers-Scogin rally with a lead-off double, and later singled in Carl Quinn to lead Monroe's offensive attack.

Winnfield hurler, Mike Tinnerello held Monroe hitless until the third inning while his teammates thwarted any possibility of a rally before their hosts finally followed Walton's example.

RUSTON (Special) — Ruston and Bastrop swapped victories in a Junior Legion doubleheader here Friday, Bastrop winning the opener 13-7 and Ruston coming back to take the nightcap 9-2.

Ruston led briefly in the first game, when Robert Marrus' three-run homer in the fifth put the James Contractors out front 6-3.

But Bastrop came back, scoring four in the sixth and five more in the seventh to turn the game into a rout.

Big Floyd Murray, who came on in relief in the sixth, allowed only one hit in the final two innings to take the win.

Ed Koss, the last of two Ruston hurlers, was the loser. Koss surrendered eight unearned runs in struck out 10 to pick up the decision.

Ruston used the three-hit pitching of lefthander George Stone to bounce back in the nightcap.

The Ruston High sophomore struck out 13 and walked only five in going the route to collect his third win against no losses.

Ruston scored three runs in the first frame to give Stone a comfortable working margin and iced the contest with five more in the sixth.

Bernice is now 5-8 for the year and the losers 1-8.

Santa Clara Athletic Chief Blasts Pro Baseball Scouts

Senators Defeat Twins In 10, 6-3

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chuck Hinton's tremendous home run into the Minnesota bullpen in the 10th gave the Washington Senators a 6-3 victory over the Twins Friday night. It was the fourth extra-inning victory in five games for the cellar dwellers.

Ray Moore retired the first two Senators in the ninth, but Harry Bright hit a wrong-field double that just missed clearing the fence in right field. Bright went to third on a wild pitch during a

Hank Aguirre Blanks Birds On Three Hits

BALTIMORE (AP) — Hank Aguirre of the Detroit Tigers allowed three hits and struck out 11 Friday night as he hurled a 1-0 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

The 30-year-old left-hander did not permit a runner past second base while yielding singles in the second, seventh and ninth innings.

Baltimore's only threat came in the seventh when Jim Gentile singled with two out and moved to second on a walk to Jack Brandt. But Aguirre fanned rookie Boog Powell for the final out.

The Tigers scored in the first inning off Baltimore's hard-luck right-hander, Chuck Estrada. Bill Bruton singled with one out, he moved to third on Norm Cash's single, and tallied on a sacrifice fly by Rocky Colavito.

In Estrada's last seven starts, the Orioles have been shut out five times. During June, Estrada won only one game although giving up just nine earned runs in 43 1-3 innings. He permitted five hits Friday night before being lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

Aguirre, whose sixth victory represents his personal season high in the major leagues, retired 16 batters in a row before Gentile singled in the seventh.

OELKERS COACH

Yank Trackmen To Meet Poles

CHICAGO (AP)—The cream of U.S. track and field talent and Poland's best clash Saturday in a two-day international dual that may find the Poles much stronger than expected.

"We feel the Poles, whose track season starts later than ours may now be nearing a peak which could surprise us," said U.S. head Coach John Oelkers of Tulane, directing an Olympic caliber 40-man squad.

Consensus is, however, that Uncle Sam's stellar squad generally will find the Poles a tough, but surmountable test for a rugged dual with Russia July 21-22 at Palo Alto, Calif.

Oelkers' team, mostly, was completely assembled Friday—arriving from all parts of the country—but he has little concern over the squad's condition since the athletes are fresh from last weekend's National AAU meet at Walnut, Calif. The squad is composed of the top two American finishers in each of the AAU events.

Scene of the U.S.-Pole meet, including 20 men's and 10 women's events, will be hallowed Stagg Field on the University of Chicago campus—which has been a haunted house, as far as major athletics is concerned, since the Maroons faded as a sports power during the 1930s.

The track itself, however, is modern—composed of the same en-tout-cas, reddish clay material used for the 1959 Pan-American Games in Soldier Field. The sprung, resilient material was hauled in drums from Soldier Field and planted in the field named after football patriarch A. Stagg.

Under favorable weather conditions, the track will be open for play by the July 4 holidays. H. W. McSherry, finance and utilities commissioner, announced yesterday.

PISTONS GET LOUGHRY

DETROIT (UPI)—Kevin Loughry, former St. John's University star, has signed a contract with the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association. Loughry was the Pistons' No. 2 draft choice.

In New York, Frick said he has not yet received the letter, but thought under "common courtesy" he should have seen it prior to release to the press.

Saturday Luncheon Fete Miss Sharron Eldred

Mr. and Mrs. Metz R. Tugwell's home in Farmerville was the scene of a luncheon on Saturday, June 23, honoring Miss Sharron Eldred, bride-elect of A. D. Smith. Acting as co-hostesses were Miss Lita Tugwell, Miss Jeanette Long, Mrs. Ingram Ballard and Mrs. Estelle N. Greer.

As the guests entered, they were attracted by the central decor of the entertainment area, which was a cleverly designed pink satin heart with a miniature bride's bouquet pinned on it. Underneath this was a scroll of pink satin ribbon with "A. D. and Sharron" written in gold letters. This was placed on the wall between two gold sconces holding candles of blending shades. On the piano was noted two antique-style hurricane lights entwined with ivy and pink rosebuds. Arrangements of summer flowers in white and pink shades were placed at vantage points throughout the house.

Guests were greeted by Miss Tugwell and Miss Long, and asked to sign the Bride's book, which was on a table adorned by two pink shaded bisque cherubs lying in a bed of white satin at the foot of a memory candle. A cymbidium orchid corsage was presented to the guest of honor. The hostesses' gift to Miss Eldred was a silver fork in her chosen pattern. She was attired in a unusual model of printed polished cotton with matching accessories.

Saturday Luncheon Fetes Miss Sharron Eldred

Mr. and Mrs. Metz R. Tugwell's home in Farmerville was the scene of a luncheon on Saturday, June 23, honoring Miss Sharron Eldred, bride-elect of A. D. Smith, Jr. Acting as co-hostesses were Miss Lita Tugwell, Miss Jeanette Long, Mrs. Ingram Ballard and Mrs. Estelle N. Greer.

As the guests entered, they were attracted by the central decor of the entertainment area, which was a cleverly designed pink satin heart with a miniature bride's bouquet pinned on it. Underneath this was a scroll of pink satin ribbon with "A. D. and Sharron" written in gold letters. This was placed on the wall between two gold sconces holding candles of blending shades. On the piano was noted two antique-style hurricane lights entwined with ivy and pink rosebuds. Arrangements of summer flowers were placed at vantage points throughout the house.

Guests were greeted by Miss Tugwell and Miss Long, and asked to sign the Bride's book, which was on a table adorned by two pink shaded bisque cherubs lying in a bed of white satin at the foot of a memory candle. A cymbidium orchid corsage was presented to the guest of honor. The hostesses' gift to Miss Eldred was a silver fork in her chosen pattern. She was attired in a trousseau model of printed polished cotton with matching accessories.

The officers elected for the remainder of this year were: president, Mrs. Eugene Scott; vice president, Mrs. Charles Chisholm; recording secretary, Mrs. Winston May; correspondence secretary, Mrs. W. T. Butler; treasurer, Mrs. Frank Wimberly; and parliamentarian, Mrs. Luther Branch.

Don't fall flat on your face... I have an idea! It sounds real screwy but it has many advantages.

Have you ever thought of moving all the household cleaners that are ordinarily under your sink? Think about this. We stoop about 10 times a day to reach bleach, soap, powders and cleansers, ammonia, scouring pads, etc. We stoop about once a week for if you don't like it. Give it a wax, window cleaners, toilet bowl cleaners, shoe polish, starch, bug juice, oven cleaners, pine disinfectants, rust removers, etc.

Boy... ain't that place a did mess?

Stooping takes energy. Why should we stoop when we don't have to? This is really unnecessary. Let's move the stuff!

Put it on the shelf above your they are really easy to reach, rearrange your shelves.

But, I'll bet a dime, when you get rid of the old idea that cleaning things belong under the sink that you will love the new way, I do. Another reason to change (even if you change back a week later) is that you will get rid of half the junk under the sink. Those old half-empty bottles of stuff that you have kept for years can be discarded. Ask yourself, "Have I used this in the last year or so?"

Ret's are that if you haven't you never will!

Throw it away.

How many kind of waxes do you have? About five, I'll bet. You don't need five. Some are five years old. Something new has come out on the market or you have found one particular brand that exactly fits your needs. Give the other half-empty cans to your neighbor or throw them away.

Clean, clean, clean. Your housekeeping will be only half the trouble.

But most important of all, you may save a life this way.

Many small children (not yours, but somebody's) will come for a visit. They can get into trouble in less than a minute. They love to play with pots and pans. Bottles. They will drink anything! Shoe polish, bleach or any agent. Who knows why?

They just might open your cupboard door to investigate. Many times it is too late. Don't take a chance on letting this happen.

Move that stuff under your cabinets today. Aren't you anxious to get started?

While you are cooking — just put all the stuff under your sink on your drainboard as a reminder. Leave it out until you get the time to figure where you want to put it.

Put the things you use most in front — for easy viewing and use. And gals, if any more of you have any ideas, do send them in.

MRS. CHARLES HENRY KELLEY

Nuptials Unite Couple

The wedding of Miss Brenda Joy Leachman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Leachman, of Choudrant, to Charles Henry Kelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burvis Kelley of Farmerville was solemnized at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, June 7 at New Hope Baptist Church of Choudrant.

Rev. H. B. Stewart performed the double ring ceremony before the chancel, where an arch was formed by clusters of blue hydrangeas and magnolia blossoms, entwined with English ivy. Baskets of white gladioli and greenery flanked three seven branched candelabra holding tall white cathedral tapers. White bows with magnolia leaves marked the pews. Miss Lynell Stewart organist, played "Oh Promise Me" preceding the ceremony, and candles were lighted by Gary Patterson.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown fashioned with a full silk organza skirt over net and taffeta, with a fitted bodice of Alencon lace. The bodice featured a scooped neckline with short sleeves, and the full skirt motifs of lace. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from tiara of seed pearls and sequins. Her only jewelry was a drop necklace in a four clover design, centered with a small diamond. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with white satin streamers on a white Bible.

Miss Carolyn Leachman, sister of the bride, served as her only attendant. She was gowned in a light blue nylon organza with a scalloped neckline and fitted bodice. Her headdress was of light blue net complimented by small bows. She carried a bouquet of white carnations circled with white net ruffles.

George Leachman, of Ruston brother of the bride, attended Mr. Kelley as best man. Ushers were Lane Leachman and Billy Leachman, also brothers of the bride from Ruston.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

When the young couple left on their honeymoon the bride was wearing a turquoise sheath with black patent accessories, and a tiny veiled pillow. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Following a wedding trip to Little Rock, Ark., they will be at home in Farmerville, La., where Mr. Kelley is employed by a local oil company.

Don't fall flat on your face . . .
but . . . I have an idea!
It sounds real screwy but it has many advantages.

Have you ever thought of moving all the household cleaners that are ordinarily under your sink? Think about this. We stoop about 10 times a day to reach bleach, soap, powders and cleansers, ammonia, scouring pads, etc.

We stoop about once a week for wax, window cleaners, toilet bowl cleaners, shoe polish, starch, bug juices, oven cleaners, pine disinfectants, rust removers, etc.

Boy . . . ain't that place a mess?

Stooping takes energy. Why should we stoop when we don't have to? This is really unnecessary. Let's move the stuff!

Put it on the shelf above your sink. Then all you have to do is reach up! That takes less energy. Psychologically we are tired and depressed when doing housecleaning. Why stoop and lower your feelings more? Reach up!

No energy required.

Now . . . I know what you are going to say. Nobody puts their cleaning agents on an eye level and especially above their sink!

So? Who cares? Try it. You can always go back to your old ways if you don't like it. Give it a whirl.

I know I used to put mine below the sink because my mother
did. She did because grandmoth-

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: In this day and age, what should one call his father? Dad, Pop, Papa? Does "Father" denote more respect than "Papa"? We'd like your opinion.

TWO SONS

DEAR SONS: I have had a clipping for many years. The author is unknown to me. I'd like to share it with you:

"If he is prominent and wealthy and you stand in awe of him, call him 'Father.' If he sits in his shirt sleeves and suspenders at ball games, call him 'Pop.' If he tills the soil and labors in overalls, call him 'Pa.' If he wheels the baby carriage and carries bundles merrily, call him 'Papa,' with the accent on the first syllable. If he belongs to a literary circle and writes cultured papers, call him 'Papa,' with the accent on the last syllable. If, however, he makes a pal of you when you're good, and is too wise to let you pull the wool over his loving eyes when you're not, and if, moreover, you're sure no one else you know has quite so fine a father, you may call him 'Dad.'"

JEALOUS

DEAR JEALOUS: Your instincts are probably good. Why invite trouble? Next time your neighbor recruits your husband for a man hunt — join the hunt.

How's the world treating you? For a personal unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

Estes' tangled affairs in an effort to see if the promoter engaged in improper favors in his extensive dealings with the Agriculture Department.

Mundt challenged Freeman's claim that he has taken adequate steps to prevent future operations of the kind which led the department to levy a $554,000 penalty against Estes for improperly acquiring cotton-planting allotments for more than 3,000 acres of land. The penalty has not been collected and is subject to court review.

Mundt, senior Republican on the subcommittee, said he could not understand what he called the reluctance of the department of plug a loophole.

Freeman came under cross-examination Friday after having read to the subcommittee Thursday a 50-page statement on the Estes case.

In that, he acknowledged the department had moved too slowly in its investigation of Estes and had made mistakes. But he reiterated no special favors were extended and that the government will lose no money because of Estes' dealings.

The exchanges Friday centered largely around Estes' success in getting the allotments of farmers who had been dispossessed when their lands were taken for public improvements such as reservoirs and highways. He did this by selling land to the farmers and leasing it back along with their allotments.

Mundt bore down on the fact that Estes was allowed to remain on a National Cotton Advisory Committee even after department officials had decided he acted improperly in obtaining the allotments. The Dakotan sought to show that this constituted condoning of a criminal act.

Mundt noted that Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy had called on every official in the administration to notify him immediately of any suspected wrongdoing. He wanted to know why the Estes case hadn't been referred to the Justice Department.

Freeman replied that it was a civil matter and at that point could not be prosecuted criminally.

Mundt read a portion of a memo by department general counsel John Bagwell which said the allotment scheme was a device to obtain cotton acreage "contrary to law."

"Do you mean it is not a crime to violate the law?"

"It was contrary to the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938," Freeman said. "There is no implication that every time one doesn't comply with procedures established under that law that it is a criminal offense."

PAINFUL COCCYX

Coccygodynia is a painful condition of the tail bone (coccyx) and its neighboring region. It is said to be on the increase because more people are watching TV for hours at a time. While prolonged sitting in an overstuffed chair is one culprit, there are others. Slouching while driving on long auto trips is one, and injury is another.

The coccyx is the counterpart of animal's tail. The structure is a tiny bone less than half an inch long, sprouting from the base of the spine. It rarely is formed until adult life and has no function except to hold certain muscles in place.

It can be a great nuisance when injured because it is surrounded by many nerves and muscles. Falling, especially on the stairs or while skating or skiing, is likely to injure the area. Damage occurs also thru a blow or kick.

As stated previously, sitting for long periods and faulty posture create a strain on the structure.

Pain from a trivial accident usually disappears in a short time; fractures heal more slowly. A true coccygodynia exists when distress persists after strain or injury to the lower spine, even to the lower spine, even to healing is complete.

No one knows why pain persists even after the tiny bone is removed. Months or years may elapse before tenderness vanishes. Discomfort may stem from residual arthritis and occasionally from inflammation of the surrounding nerves or pelvic organs.

Pain requires absolute rest in bed and local heat. Later, strips of adhesive tape are applied to the lower back. Ordinary coccygodynia is relieved also by heat via diathermy, intra-red, or warm baths.

But the individual must sit properly to be comfortable. The coccyx ought to be brought directly backward in the erect sitting posture to relieve strain. A hard firm seat is better than a comfortable looking upholstered chair. Massage also helps, especially when done internally.

The tail bone is removed only when pain does not respond to simple measures or if the bone is deformed, displaced, or fractured.

FAMILY RESEMBLANCES

Mrs. L. D. writes: I have two children. One is dark — the image of my husband — but the other looks like my brother, who is fair skinned and blue eyed. Now my husband claims the hospital made a mistake and gave us the wrong baby. I'm afraid all this will reflect on my innocent child's mind when he gets older. Do children all have to look like the father?

REPLY

No some look like the mother or her side of the family. In many instances, the mixture is so great the child does not look like either father or mother. Youngsters also change in appearance as they get older; those who look like the father at age 2 may resemble the mother at age 20.

fore it the Confiscation and — which Rebel Maj. Gen. John Emancipation bill. Republican as J. (Stonewall) Jackson had left governors were pressing for its befuddled — with other Union not until July 3, 1862, did the Potomac had been defeated on the Virginia Peninsula and lay panned up and in peril, licking its wounds at Harrison's Landing on the James River.

The North recoiled. Columns of casualty figures in the newspapers hammered home the bad tidings to Northerners who had forgotten — for the moment, at least — that war means battles and that battles meant death and maiming.

The last vestiges of hope for a "quick war" died and in its place grew slowly but surely, the cold realization that the Union faced more sacrifice, more taxes and more calls for troops if the South was to be subdued.

And with defeat came renewed clamor to make this Civil War a war to free the slaves and use them to speed up victory rather than a crusade solely to maintain the Union.

Sen. Charles Sumner of Massachusetts, a dedicated radical Republican and anti-slavery man, seized this opportunity to press his case. He visited the White House twice on July 4, urging President Lincoln to re-dedicate the holiday to the emancipation of the slaves.

Lincoln still was not convinced that the time was at hand. He told Sumner that it's "too big a tick now." He still feared the impact on the border states if he freed the slaves as a war measure. Yet he also knew that if he delayed much longer, Congress would take the issue out of his hands.

Sumner quoted Lincoln as saying on that Fourth of July: "I would do it if I were not afraid that half the officers would fling down their arms and three more states would rise."

At the time Congress had been as far as the full story of the Peninsula defeat filtered in with arrival of officers from the Army of the Potomac.

Lincoln had read part of Maj.

Gen. George B. McClellan's frantic telegram of defeat, dated June 28 from the Seven Days' battlefield. The telegram ended with the bitter paragraph:

"If I save this army now, I tell you plainly that I owe no thanks to you (Secretary of War Edwin M. Stanton) or any other person in Washington. You have done your best to sacrifice this army."

Stanton and Lincoln did not see those words. Col. E. S. Stanford, supervisor of telegraph, struck them out on his own responsibility. But they saw plenty to warn them that all was not well on the Peninsula.

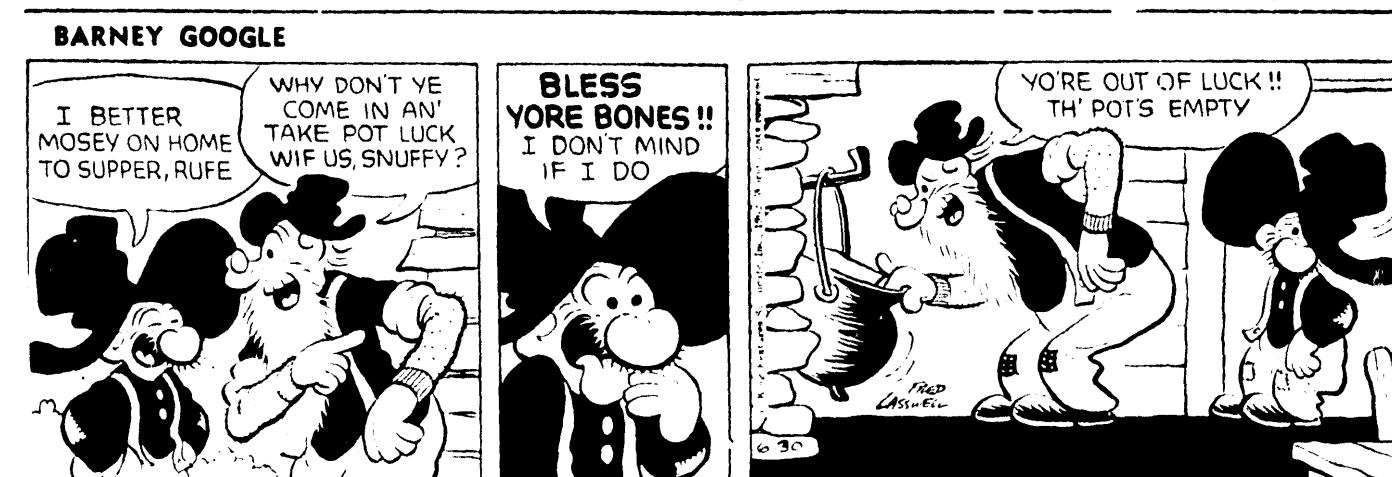

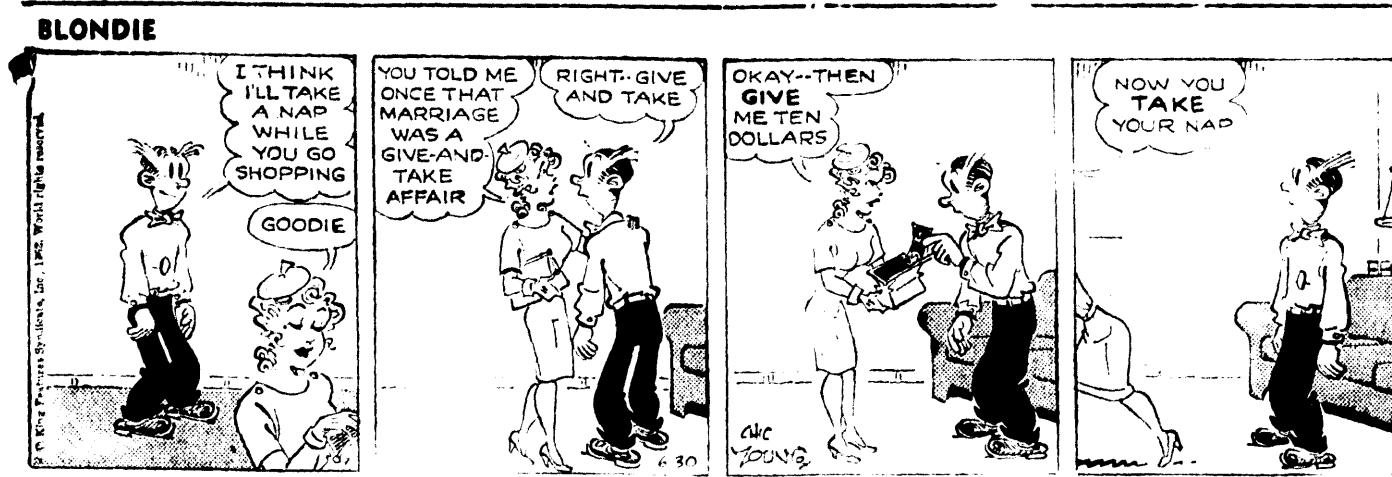

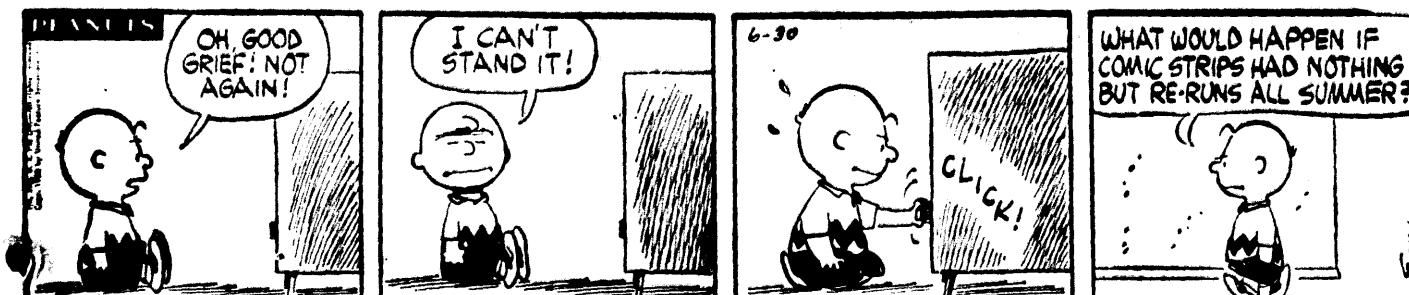

Fortunately for Northern morale the telegram was not made public for seven months. It would be two years before the last two sentences were published in McClellan's battle report.

Lincoln now began to pick up the pieces and try to fit this Chinese puzzle into a successful military pattern.

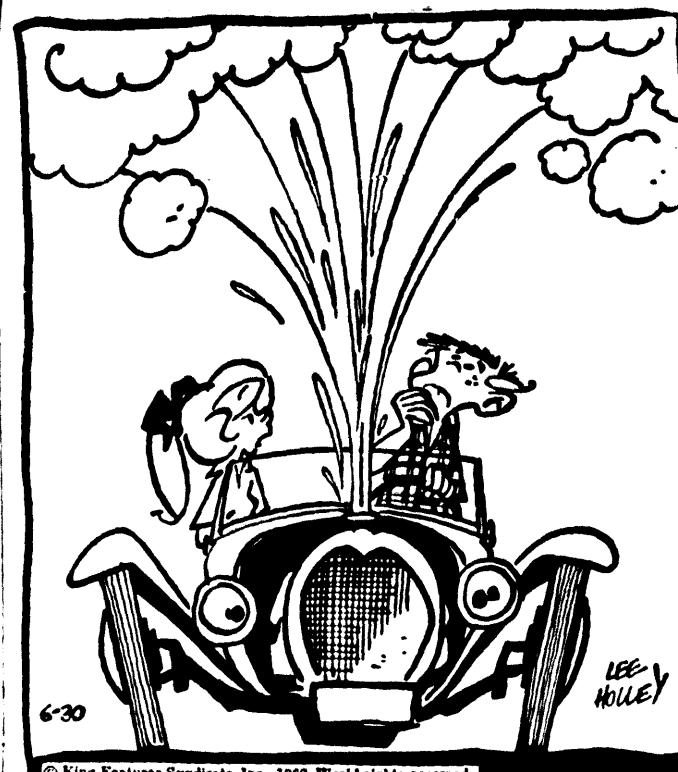

First he united the scattered forces in the Shenandoah Valley

"WHY DON'T YOU TAKE IT TO A PLUMBER INSTEAD OF A MECHANIC?"

Rusk Reports Results Of Trip Abroad

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk reported to President Kennedy Friday that he believes his 10-day European trip furthered allied understanding, although it achieved no spectacular results.

Rusk, returning from talks with leaders of France, West Germany, Italy, Britain, and Portugal, had an early morning meeting with the President before Kennedy set off on a goodwill trip to Mexico.

The secretary told newsmen both he and the President were "very pleased" with the results of the European trip.

U.S. officials said Rusk's travels, which included talks with French President Charles de Gaulle and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and a quick son forfeited bond of $5 for an 88-day jail term. Both men were counts of disturbing the peace and vagrancy.

Traffic court activity saw fines or bond forfeitures for reckless driving on Charles Barfield, 3004 D'Arbonne Road, West Monroe, and Florent H. Hammonds, 323 Pargoud Dr. For speeding, an 88-day jail term. Both men were counts of disturbing the peace and vagrancy.

They were meant to be part of a continuing discussion on the future organization of Europe and this country's relations to it, and on allied strategy and policy differences over Berlin and other issues.

Aides called Rusk's talk with De Gaulle "profitable" though it left unchanged the basic split between De Gaulle's plans to achieve his own nuclear force and Washington's determination not to help him with it.

Officials reported an atmosphere of growing acceptance in Europe for Britain's joining the Common Market.

In Lisbon, they felt, Rusk made at least a dent in Portugal's ill feeling against the United States for its stands on Angola and Goa.

Stock Market Scores Third Straight Gain

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks scored their third consecutive gain on slightly slower trading Friday, lifting the popular averages to the highest level in eight sessions.

The market was showing its best gain around mid-session but started down and lost around half the gain by the close as news got around that the steel industry was planning severe production cutbacks in the month of July.

Brokers felt most of the early buying represented covering by worried short sellers who had borrowed stock in the expectation of replacing it later at lower prices. However, the bad steel news seemed to relieve some of the pressure on these interests allowing the market to soften some.

The evidence of this release of pressure was that the growth stocks and electronics, where the heaviest short positions are believed to have been piled up, were quick to retreat, many closing with losses — notably IBM down $\frac{1}{4}$, Polaroid off $\frac{1}{2}$ and Xerox off $\frac{1}{4}$.

Trading totaled 4,720,000 shares against 5,440,000 on Thursday. With 1,293 issues traded, 760 advanced, two to 1962 highs, and was roughly $\frac{1}{4}$ of 1 per cent.
